Galilee Church Plans Celebration

An overflow crowd of relatives and friends attended the funeral services for the late Mrs. Eva Fleshman Bolden, Sunday evening at 2 p.m. at the Mt. Shiloh Baptist Church, Spout Spring, Va. with the pastor Rev. R. Q. Lawing, officiating and delivering the eulogy. The pastor was assisted in the service by the following ministers: Rev. W. R. Jones, Rev. J. D. Scruggs, Rev. A. B. Jones and Rev. James Miller. Special music was rendered by the Jordan Baptist Church choir. A solo was sung by Mrs. Lillie C. Stevens. The pastor paid tribute to the decease and her family. Mrs. Bolden joined the Promise Land Baptist Church at an early age and remained a faithful member until she moved her membership to the Mt. Shiloh Church five years ago. She was a loyal and faithful member of Mt. Shiloh until her death. The members of the Mt. Shiloh deacon board served as pallabears and members of the Mt. Shiloh Sr. Choir and members of the Willing Workers Club served as flower bearers. Burial services were held in the family plot in the Promise Land Cemetery.

A large crowd attended the Connerstone Union last Sunday at the Promise Land Baptist Church at 10 a.m. The vice president, deacon J. D. Moore presided. The Pastor Speaks

"The Missing Note In Modern Day Preaching"
Acts 17:30

Repentance; that is, old fashioned Bible Repentance, is something that is seldom heard from the pulpits of our land today. Bible Repentance is a change of mind of the most radical sort and is brought about by the Holy Spirit in Soverign Grace. Bible Repentance can best be described by the child's verse:

"Repentance is to leave
The things we loved before,
And show that we in earnest grieve
By doing so no more."

Let every man understand that he will never have remission of sin while he is in love with sin; and that if he abides in sin he cannot obtain the pardon of sin. There must be a hatred of sin, and a turning from it, or it is not blotted out. We are to propagate "repentance as a duty". (Acts 17:30) Jesus said, "Except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish . . ." (Luke 13;3). He that has sinned is bound to repent of having sinned: it is the least that he can do. How can any man ask God for mercy while he abides in sin?

We are to preach the "acceptableness of repentance."

In itself considered, there is noting in repentance deserving of the favour of God; but, the Lord Jesus Christ having come, we read, "He that confesseth and forsaketh his sin shall find mercy." God accepts repentance for the sake of His dear Son. He smiles upon the penitent sinner, and puts away his sin.

We are to also preach the "Motives of repentance". Men may not repent of loving God, fear of hell, but they must repent of sin itself. Every thief is sorry when he has to go to prison; every murderer is sorry when he finds the noose is around his neck; the sinner must repent, not because of the punishment of sin, but because his sin is sin against a pardoning God, sin against a bleeding Saviour, sin never seen in the city where he lived.

One of the sights they showed him was a hen sitting on a nest of eggs. They told him that some day soon a little chick would come out of each egg. The little boy was delighted with this prospect and every morning he would race to the chicken coop to see whether the great miracle had yet occurred.

No Signs Of Change

Days went by and the little boy became disappointed as nothing happened in the chicken coop. The eggs looked exactly as they had when he had first seen them. They bore no signs of change whatsoever. So his faith in the expected miracle began to wane. Finally, after many fruitless days of watching, he gave up altogether, deciding that he had been deceived.

The next day, by sheer habit and no longer in anticipation, he went to the coop and was amazed to find that the miracle had taken place: the nest was alive with little chicks. How amazing it seemed that all this had taken place overnight. Yesterday the eggs had looked the same as always, but today the eggs were replaced by fully-developed baby chicks!

Appearances, of course, had been deceiving to the boy. The eggs appeared to be the same as "hurry" during the days and years for you to come to Christ, but underneath, a miracle was growing right before his eyes, but he couldn't see it.

Is God Punctual?

In "My Fair Lady," Professor Higgins sings, "Why Can't A Woman Be Like A Man?" There is a sense in which our prayers must often sound as if we're saying, "Why can't God be like a man? Why can't he do things our way? Why can't he pace himself according to our schedule? Why isn't he more punctual?"

This may sound presumptuous, yet isn't this what many of us feel deep down? "God, I asked you to help me last week, and I still am in the same mess." "Lord, I've been asking for years for you to change his heart, and he's still a sinner."

The two parables in Luke 18 are not meant to encourage an indifferent neglectful attitude. Rather, the two stories, Jesus is saying these two all-too-human people respond to a man's persistence, how much more assured of the goodness of a loving God!

How Long? How

Many of us are like the grumpy drafter who was asked under a hot, scorching, sultry day. The room's comrades were enjoying fantastic nor adept at what he was doing. A passing comrade stopped to see the reason his rifle. "How long have been in the army?" he asked of the rookie. The fellow wearily at the office now plied, "All day, sir." 2 overall.

We all know of times we all know of times when we must remember to "wait on the Lord" and wait patiently and quietly to await the answer which will come in his own good time.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

"HURRYING THE CHICKEN"

Lesson for February 7, 1971

Background Scripture: Luke 11: 5-13; 18:1-8

The late Emmett Fox used to tell a story about a city boy who was spending his summer on the farm. His hosts had a fine time showing him around the farm, pointing out the sights he had against a tender Gospel. The true penitent repents of sin against God, and he would even if there were no punishment. When he is forgiven, he repents of sin more than ever; for he sees more clearly than ever the sinfulness of offending so gracious a God.

We are to preach "repentance as its perpetuity." Repentance is not a grace which is only to be exercised by us for a week or so at the beginning of our Christian career; it is to attend us all the way to heaven.

Men and women need also to know the "source of Repentance". The Bible says that God hath highly exalted His Son and that Jesus now grants repentance and remission of sins. Repentance is a plant that never grows on nature's dunghill; the nature must be changed, and repentance must be implanted by the Holy Spirit, or it will never flourish in our hearts. We preach repentance as a fruit of the Spirit, or else we would greatly err."
